I Spied ...

"An umbrella is an Auckland essential and with my propensity for leaving the damn thing behind, I'm all in favour of cheap and cheerful ones. Unlike many plastic ones, where umbrellas often pop up as street vendors come a single drop of rain, here you have to wait their wit. Local company Drop is making this way, with a wide range of smart designs and ones sold in glamorous stores. This fall-stayed firm pop-up caught my eye."
